Bombers Lose to Pendleton, 7-0

Threaten Goal But Unable to Punch Across

The smallest crowd ever to witness a Bomber game in Richland braved inclement weather to see one of the finest football games of the season, as the local lads threatened time after time to score before going down in defeat before the Pendleton Buckaroos here last Saturday afternoon, 7 to 0.

Richland just couldn't get across the last white line, and since they still pay off on touchdowns, the single tally won by Pendleton in the second period, won the game.

On the basis of statistics, the Bombers made a better showing, camping in enemy territory most of the afternoon. The closest they came to a touchdown, however, was in the fourth quarter when Dale Gier's pass to Jack Davis was three inches from the goal line and one inch short of a first down.

Unable to Cross

The passing combination of Fisher to Sheeran, who lateraled to Gier, put Richland within the reach of pay dirt often, but the boys were unable to push the ball across the pay-off line.

Pendleton's touchdown came on a 45-yard drive, with Dave Doherty taking it over them the 18. A pass, Hopp to Boylen, accounted for the extra point.

This was the last game of the year for both schools. They will tangle again next year in the Rodeo City.
