The Richland Bombers should have their ammunition all ready to fire this weekend, but the Kennewick Lions are hoping a couple of their players have their claws back, and all develop molasses fingers.

Friday night, Richland rolled all over the Lions to shut them out, 33-0, the second week in a row the Kennewick eleven has gone scoreless.

The Bombers rolled up their usual three touchdown lead before substituting, then threw in the second unit. And without a program, you could hardly tell the difference.

Where Danny Neth, Bill Johnson and Kenney Ryan had been ripping the Kennewick line apart, with the aid of some excellent blocking, it became the enjoyable task for Robert Kenner, Jock Cameron and George Mulligan to tear off the yardage in large doses. Enjoyable, that is, for the Richland players.

For Kennewick, one of the biggest blows came an hour and 15 minutes before game time. That was when Jim Monasmith walked into the dressing room and announced he was on doctor's orders not to play.

That left Coach Vern Tucker with no choice at quarterback. The only player he could use was one who has been out most of the past three weeks with an injury, and has seen practically no time at quarterback this season — Ole Olds. To the credit of Olds, who did some quarterbacking last year, he accepted without hardly a murmur.

Operating under the belief Monasmith would be ready, Tucker had allowed Marc McGinnis to play two quarters in the junior varsity game Thursday night, so could not use the regular reserve QB until the second half.

It probably would have made little difference, anyway, considering the mood the Bombers were in. Though they didn't score their first touchdown until mid-way in the second period, right from the first those fleet and smashing Richland backs began knocking through the Kennewick line.

Once again, fumbles also hurt the Lions. The first occurred just after the Lions did something accidentally they have been trying to do on purpose for the past two seasons — recover an onside kick.

Friday night they did it on the opening kickoff, as the boot slipped off the side of the kicker's foot and a Lion pounced on it on the Richland 46.

Two plays later the Lions fumbled and Richland gained control. The Lions stopped that drive, and another before they fumbled again, but the second time, Richland took over on the Kennewick 43.

Bang, bang, bang. Eleven running plays and Johnson went over from the three. Neth kicked the extra point.

Just 25 seconds before the half ended, the Bombers scored again, this time on a 25-yard pass from Johnson to end Norris Brown.

The other three touchdowns came in the third period. Johnson took a pitch out around left end and scooted down the sideline 19 yards for the first one.

Mulligan plunged through right guard for seven yards for the second, after Richland recovered another fumble on the 11.

Just four players later, Mulligan whipped nine yards around right end for the final TD. A fumble also set that one up for the Bombers, when the kickoff was bobbled.

Central, Eastern In 6-6 Tie

ELLENSBURG, Oct. 27 (AP) — Central Washington College of Education fought the favored Eastern Washington football team to a 6-6 tie today on a muddy field before a homecoming crowd.

The scores came within half a minute of each other in the early part of the third quarter. Central started a march on its own 45 and in four ground plays went to Eastern's 40. There quarterback Bud Smaza broke through the right guard and scooted to pay dirt.

Eastern took Central's kickoff and ran to the 35. Then quarterback John Sande threw a 45-yard toss to halfback Dewey Van Dinter, who took it on the 25 and outraced two Wildcats into the end zone.

Eastern gained a total of 161 yards, 16 on the ground and 145 in the air, while Central gained 162 yards, 143 by rushing and 19 on passes.
